

Hedger & Nicholson is equal parts Nick Hedger and Ben Nicholson who write their music, lyrics and book together. As well as currently writing two musicals the pair founded and run "Home Grown". "Worth the Breath: An evening with Hedger & Nicholson" featured as part of the Chapel Off Chapel 20th Anniversary celebrations; and their latest piece, "Hook Up", opened to rave reviews as part of the 2014 Melbourne Fringe and was accepted as part of the 2015 New Musicals Australia program at the Hayes Theatre Co in Sydney. It was also performed at the National Theatre by Patrick Studios Australia Music Theatre in July 2015.

After graduating from WAAPA (BA Music Theatre) in 2012 Nick made his professional debut performing in The Production Company's "Pirates of Penzance" in October 2013 and in Hook Up at the Melbourne Fringe. Nick featured in the workshops/readings of Air Supply musical, "All out of Love", in Playground at Chapel Off Chapel, and as part of Chapel Off Chapel's 20th Anniversary Celebrations.

After graduating from WAAPA in 2013 Ben made his Melbourne theatre debut in Matthew Robinson's acclaimed "Atlantis - In Concert" [dir. Chris Parker] followed by "Playground", both at Chapel off Chapel in February 2014. In October that year Ben played the role of Stokes in Carrie: the Musical [dir. Terence O'Connell] and in November Ben read the role of Bert in the Festival Centre reading of Lane Hinchcliffe's The Front. Ben was the Assistant Director on the Melbourne Comedy Festival production of Avenue Q.
